DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is written in more than one paragraph and exceeds the 150-word limit as specified above. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

3. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Objections

4. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities:
5. Claim 1 claims a method of (performing) spectral analysis utilizing two-dimensional representation, however, it is unclear what the method steps consist of, since the claim is written in a descriptive form, including conventional steps of spectral analysis. Additionally, Examiner notes the processing of a two dimensional plot with a specific component band removed (p. 46, lines 22-25) wherein several means can be utilized to achieve the desired output, however, it appears as though the descriptions run on into additional conceptions, and it is unclear what applicant considers being the completion of a "step" and the beginning of a subsequent process.

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1-7 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,154,708. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because U.S. Patent No. 6,154,708 claims a method of processing spectral data in two-dimensional representation except for the step of producing a two dimensional derivative plot with a specific component removed. It would have been obvious to modify the claimed method of U.S. Patent 6,154,708, such that it incorporated the step of producing a two-dimensional derivative plot with a specific component removed. One would have been motivated to make such a modification so that the resulting plot reveals identifiable characteristics of the analyzed object by the removal of underlying components contained within the plot. Additionally, component removal is also recognized as a technique utilized for curve smoothing and noise reduction.
